More about this opportunity with WWS:

WWS is a non- secular, non-denominational, non-for-profit, B.C. Ministry of Education certified independent school. We invite you to live the mountain resort lifestyle while immersing yourself in a career of passion and learning that supports the development of our future generations. Join a strong team of teachers who foster student engagement and instill a curiosity for learning through a demanding and experiential curriculum. The successful candidate should both be qualified and experienced in teaching or working as an educational assistant, and have a willingness to explore new ways of presenting material by embedding experiential education into the classroom environment through exposure to the school's resources and environmental surroundings. Our faculty & staff support each other in ways that enhance individual professional development and that support our students' academic and social-emotional success. Our educational dialogues are meaningful, and we aspire to the higher aims of our work for mutual inspiration. We also offer mentorship programs, peer-to-peer support sessions and ongoing professional development opportunities. The preferred candidate will be committed to a self-reflective practice and personal development to meet the needs of the students/school.
